

A thin plane in a fortnight

THREE LAYERS WHOSE ADVICE CHANGES MOST

L1

Models

Credits steer the choice; the gateway keeps it reversible

FS

Two vendors via the in-region cloud service, plus a self-hosted exit

SU

One primary, a second qualified on the same evaluation set; first-party access allowed

L6

Retrieval stores

The first control problem is tenant isolation, not model risk

FS

Entitlement filters inside one firm

SU

A customer identifier on every row, the filter inside the query, a leak test in CI

C4

Identity

The users are customers' staff

FS

Agents registered in the workforce directory

SU

A hosted customer-identity service, with the tenant on every call

THE FIRST FORTNIGHT

A pinned gateway with a budget per customer · a customer ID everywhere · tracing from the first call · an evaluation set and prompts in source control

CORE CANDIDATES

45 → 57

of 138, FS → SU